The bogns Union party that has just got power in this State, by means known to the world and the rest of mankind, had a platform on which they let us know occasionally that they stood. That platform makes the gravest charges against the party in power in the United States. It is supposed that this party intended to illustrate the enormity of these charges by their own practice; so that the people of this State would understand the full bearing of the subject. They charged that onr institutions were assailed by unconstitutional acts of Congress, and startling usnrpations of power by the Executive. This is illustrated by procuring martial law to be declared in the State, and suppressing the vote of the people who were opposed to them. This showed the people one of the startling usurpations of power; gave them an illustration before their eyes, which is, indeed, startling.

They charged, too, that the President's acin suspending the writ of habeas corpus, and declaring martial law over States where war did not exist, had violated the Constitution, and subordinated the civil to the military power; that it was daugerous to tree Govertment. They gave us a direct and imposing illustration of that. Martial law was declared in this State, where no war existed; when the civil authority was ample to compel obedience to law. The Constitution and laws of this State were subordinated to the military Who now doubts the truth of the charge made in the platform ?

All must admire the way in which the truth of the charge has been proved and illustrated. Nobody will now dispute the correctness of the platform. An imposing illustration and demonstration have been made to the people of Kentucky.

These loyal men told us, too, that these evils of which they spoke could be corrected by the ballot-box. They looked to a remedy from the peaceful but powerful agency of the suffrages of a free people. Who doubts now frages of a free people? All that's needed is to find such a people, and their suffrages will

Another point in this platferm is striking The authorities of the State are called upon to maintain and enforce the laws of this State. The importance of this admonition would not be half appreciated, but for the illustration this party has given of its necessity. In the late election they have trampled the laws of the State under foot. If they had not done so, the importance of this plank in the platform would not have been appreciated. The authorities aforesaid certainly can't now fail to see their duty, and the significance of this admonition in the platform. We feel much indebted to this Union party for the way they stood up to the platform. We voted for all the resolutions of the Legislature, and held them true and important. This party, acting in behalf of the Administration, have illus trated and demonstrated the truth and ecrrectness of the platform. We need not go abroad for examples and illustrations; we have them now at home here in Kentucky We have seen them and felt them. For this practical experience coming home to every body, we are indebted to this Union (?) Darty It is an original way they have of supporting a platform; but it is an original party; and that accounts for the way.

The Journal admits that the vote wi suppressed at Newcisile. The judges decided that rebels should not vote. They should not commit perjuty. Ah! how considerate for the souls of other people were these partisan judges! They felt remorse for other people's sins, and to keep others from perjury swore to conduct the election accord lag to law, and then trampled on the law How self-sackficing these more than Christ ians, who, to save others from committing perjury, committed it themselves! They are willing to be d-d, that others may be saved. We admire the generosity of this bogus party They will commit all the sins, that there may be none for other people to commit, and getcrously fill tophet so full there will be 10 room for any one else. It will be seen by cur correspondence that the judges of the election belonging to this same party were greatly self-sacrificing all over the State. They swore to conduct the election according to law, and deliberately conducted it otherwise: lest their opponents might commit perjury. Many thanks to them. No doubt they would take any office contrary to law, lest their op ponents should lijure themselves in office.

according to law. The reason the vote of this State was suppressed, in violation of all law, was the danger of the rebels suppressing the vote So the Louisville Journal has lt. In 1855 for eigners were driven from the polls because they had laid a plot to keep others from voiling; and because the State was full of men with black carpet-bags. . This community recollects these expedients and excuses. A why it was. There has been no legal election | ters worse. in this State; that everybody knows; but there will be plenty of excuses for an illegal and lawless one. This country has pover witnessed such an enormity-such a mockery of the palledinm of civil liberty, the ballot-box.

The bogus party in this State are already preparing to help their Republican brethren into the Federal offices next year They are going to get no a ticket in the Presi dential race of their own stripe. They hope to divide the vote as they helped to do in 1860, so that the Republican nomince may be elected. They will not be able to persuade Kentuckians to vote straight ont the Republican ticket; but they can make a scrub race for President and help that way. They, can't suffer a Democrat to be elected President, is SUPPLEMENT TO URE'S DICTIONARY OF ARTS, MANUFACTURES AND MINES, con taining a clear exposition of their principles and practice. From the last London edition, edited by Robert Hunt, F. R. S., assisted by numerous Contributors eminent in Science and familiar with Manufactures. Illustrated with seven hundred engravings on wood. New York: Appleton & Co.

Urc's Dictionary has long been a standard uthority; but so rapid has been the progress of improvement that an addition of this kind has been found necessary. All the new processes and inventions are here clearly described. It is a work of great scientific and practical value, containing in one volume the matter of the English edition, which costs thirty-eight dollars.

HEAT CONSIDERED AS A MODE OF MOTION, being a course of twelve fectures, delivered at the Royal Institution of Great Britain in the season of 1862. By John Tyndall, F. R. S., &c., Professor of Natural Philosophy in the Royal Institution. With Illustrations. New York: Appleton & Co.

This is one of the most delightful scientific works we have ever met with. The lectures are so full of life and spirit that we can slmost imagine the lecturer before us, and see his brilliant experiments in every stage of their progress. The theory is so carefully and thoroughly explained that no one can fail to understand. Such books as this create a love of science.

MANUAL OF DEVOTIONS FOR DOMESTIC AND PRIVATE USE. BY GEORGE UPFOLD, D D., Bishop of Indiana. New York: Appleton

The "Family Prayers" of the late Henry Thornton, Eaq, of Clapham, England, were presented to Bishop Upfold about three years ago by a distinguished gentleman in Canada and he has been so much pleased with them as to use them in his family worship ever since, and to be induced to preface an edition for the American public.

Conservative.-This is a very good word in the dictionary, and is applicable in a very proper sense. In the mouths of politicians, however, it is applied to the last class of parare for office, first and last. Their platform are vague generalities, which mean anything They argree with everybody generally, and with themselves particularly. On any well defined issues they are on both sides, and tell us that both sides are upon extremes, whilst they preach on one side and practice on the other. In their zeal to tlease all men, they usually please very few; and when beaten, as often happens, they console themselves that are beaten for conservatism, when they are beaten because they have no principle at all. They are against parties, but never fail to present Administration. vote a partisan ticket. They have a vast fund of self-righteousness and self-conceit; but the world owes them nothing, for they never take the responsibility for anything except getting office. They glory in calling themselves con servatives, which, being interpreted, means that they are nothing at all. They never learn anything but how to get office, and never forget what they learn.

We protest against the abuse of a good word by such au application. There are in this country two great and well-defined parties; but we have uo doubt that we shall have a third that will try to agree with both without the manly responsibility of either.

A few days ago, about three hundred E-st Tappesseeans arrived in Lexington, refurees from the despotism of Jeff Davis, in a state of such suffering and destitution as should move a heart of stone. Is it not about time these people had some protection from the Government? For more than two years, their cries and wailing and prayers have been going up to Washington for help, but thus far in valu. A few raids have been made into their region, but no attempt has yet been made to establish a permanent army there. How long! oh, how loug, are the cries of these faithful and loyal people to be disregarded? We are much mistaken if those in power will not be held to a terrible account for their conduct towards these afflicted people.

LETTERS ILLUSTRATING ITS "FAIRNESS," "JUSTICE" AND "FREEDOM."

There never was more fairness, more justice, more freedom in an election, than was practiced, and accorded by the friends of the Union last Monday.—[Louisville Journal, 5:b. Below we continue further correspondence from different sections of the State, illustrating the "fairness," "justice" and "freedom' of the election of Monday, August 31; 1863:

OWENSBORO, Ky., Aug. 7, 1863. Messrs. Editors: The radicals of this county seeing that they would lose the county, and that McHerry would beat Yeaman largely, induced Colonel Foster to visit the town a few days before the election.

Mr. Yeauan and Colonel Foster had an interview on Tuesday, before the election, and that day the following order was issued, dated Henderson, but printed in Owensboro and distributed throughout the county:

The above are merely indications of the general run of affairs on Monday, and, under the circumstances, it is the duly of the propie to urge upon the candilates who were thus so unconstitutionally and frandulently defeated to contest this election before the proper tribunals, and lay the matter upon the archives of the nation, to the shame and d sgrace of those who induced or indorsed this ontrage upon the Constitution, a strict ad herance to which "is the best—it may be the last—hope of popular freedom." CONSTITUTIONAL

Yours, MUHLENBURG COUNTY, KY., Aug. 5, 1863. Messrs Editors: It may be of interest to some to know how the election was carried in the Second Congressional District. Mr. Yesman, by the "blessing of Aimighty God" and Gen. Shackleford, has triumphed over his and Gen. Shackleford, has triumphed over his competitor, Col. McHenry, by a handsome majority; true he was beat before the people, and, finding it out, Col. Foster, from Indiana, issued an order to enforce the laws of Kentucky, and Gen. Shackleford reissued the same order, dated at Russellville, printed in large posters, and sent by soldiers all over the lower end of the Second District. Here is a copy of the order. [See letter from Owensboro.—Eds.]

You will observe that the oath here required is not in accordance with the Kentucky law; but it was entorced by the judges, under the protection which was "supplied and guaranteed" by the military force.

Too much credit connot be given to Col.
Love and Col. Maxwell for the zeal manifested by them to defeat that traitor, Col. McHenry, who had the audacity to set up Kentucky law against Lincoln's proclamation, and to give siayes up to their owners. These soldlers (at least such of them as were loyal) were permitslaves up to their owners. Incess soldiers (at least such of them as were loyal) were permitted to come here to the election, and rigidly enforced the Kentucky law as expounded by Col. Foster and General Shacklelord. Men who offered to take the oaths required by the civil laws were refused their votes, ander the plea that Kentucky was under martial isw, and the civil laws were refused their votes, and the plea that Kentucky was under martial isw, and the civil laws not in force; and men at many places, who had been compelled to take a military outh to get a pass out of the mili-, thrown into prison to await his trial.

tary lines, were refused their votes because the military authorities had adjudged them disloyal.

CLINTON, HICKMAN CO., KY., Aug. 4, 1863. CLINTON, HICEMAN CO., KY., Aug. 4, 1863.

Messrs. Editors: The election in this county, yesterday, under control of bayonets, was a farce and a failure. A squad of soldiers attended each voting piace in the county, avowedly to enforce the military order hereto appended, and consequently at four precincts no election was held at all; at two others the judges compiled with the military edict and excluded the names of all candidates except the radicals, polling a small vote for that ticket. At the Moscow precinct the jadges refused to obey the military order, declaring they would pursue strictly the laws of Kentucky and none other; wherenpon they were arrested and taken to Columbus before a single vote was cast. At this precinct (Clinton), strange to say, although attended by a company of soldiers from Columbus, a fair election was held and those not intimidated by the bayonets were allowed to vote their choics. About one-third of the vote of the precinct was thus cast, resulting as follows: For the Democratic State ticket, 95 votes; for the Bramlette State ticket, six votes. Congress—Trimble (now under arrest for being a Democrat), 98 votes; Anderson (radical nominee), Two votes; Owens (independent Union), ten votes. State Senste—W. R. Vance (Dem.), 97 votes; Landrum (radical), fonr votes; Beazley (independent Union), 8 votes. F. M. Ray, for the Legislature (Dem.), 98 votes; Travis (radical), five votes. Rennick, for County Clerk, 107; Slaughter (radical), two votes. G. W. Miller (Dem.), elected Jailer without opposition.

Jailer without opposition.

An untrammelied vote under the laws of Kentucky would have given to the Democratic ticket a majority of at least eight hundred in this county, but the right of smfrage, im-paired and abrogated by the bayonets of the radicals, shrinks and dwindles to the above in-significant suit, valuable only as an evidence of experimental states and of a mounting and nu-

Iuclosed I send yo an order from the military that was posted up on the morning of the election, and the polls were taken possession of by an armed soldlery, and no one allowed to vote but such as would vote for Bramlette. I don't think there was one voter that dared to vote the Democratic ticket. I was on my way to the polls to vote it, and was advised by my friends not to attempt it, as I would be arrested.

MORGANTOWN, KY., Ang. 6, 1363. MORGANTOWN, KY., Ang. 6, 1963.

Messrs. Editors: The returns are all in. The votes cast in Bullitt county are as follows:
Bremlette SS2, Jacob S27, Harlan S19, Samuels 664, Page 155, Garrard S16, Dawson S16, Stevenson S17. Wickliffe 144, Read 113, Tuner 108, Green 107, Kalius 103, Frazier 107, McKee 106, Yeaman 758, McHenry 275. For Legislature—Johnson 749, Phelps 145.

WASHINGTON, August 7. Statements appeared in some of the North-ern papers after the fall of Vicksburg and the defeat of Lee that the question of peace had been discussed in the Federal cabinet, and that a cablust crisis had been caused by a proposition of Seward to issue an amnesty to the Southern people. These statements were not thought of sufficient importance to de-mand attention. It seems now that they went to Europe, and were made the foundation of new castles in the air, built by the European enemies of the United States. It is therefore proper to say that the atatements had no foundation whatever in fact. No such debates or propositions on the subject of peace or of such amnesty have been made or had in the cabinet, nor have any such differences

The American of this evening has Rich-mond papers of the 5th, which contain the following address of the President to the sol-liers of the Confederate States: After more than two years of war, scarcely qualed in the number, magnitude, and fearful carnage of its battles—a warfare in which your conrage and fortitude have illustrated your country, and attracted not only greater admiration at home but abroad-your enemies continue a struggle in which our trimmph must be inevitable. For this, all that is necessary is, that those who are called to the field by the notive that can move human hearts should promptly repair to the post of duty, and and by their comrades now in front of the toe, and thus strengthen the armies of the Confederacy so as to insure success.

Louisville, Kr., Jone 3, 1863.

We, the undersigned, have seen the good effects produced by the use of DR. JOHN BULL'S CEDRON BITTERS in cases of general deblity and prostration of the system, and believe its general use would prevent disease and relieve much suffering. Among our soldiers particular ly would this be the case, especially those who are ex osed to miasmatic influences in the Southern climate

WAR DEPARTMENT, PROVOST MARSHAL GENERAL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C., August 1st, 1866.

The following opinions of Coinnel Joseph II It, Judz Advocate General of the Army, are patilished for the information and guidance of all officers of this Bu resu: The only son of aged and infirm parent or purents-

"The only son of aged and infi mparert or parent is not exempt, unless his parent or parents are dependent on his labor for their support. If he is la a coult to no support and does support, them without his pet sonal isloof for that purpose, he is subject to draft, because he is in a condition to perform military service without depriving his parents of the support the ladesing six secure to them. The parents need not be aboutly dependent on the labor of their son for support. If they are so dependent for the principal paid of their support, the right to exemption arises." In the case of a widow having four sons,

OPINION:
"In the case of a widow having four sons, three of wh'm are air ady in the military service, the fourtish exempt, provided his mother is dependent on him for support." nith-case of a willow having two sons, one of who is already in the military service,

OPINION:

"In the case of a widow having two sons, one of whom is already in the military service, and the other has been drafted, the latter is exempt, as 'the only son liable to military duty in the sense of the act.' In the case of nged or infirm parents having two or more sons subject to military duty, more sors subject to military duty, opinion:

"In the case of ag dor infirm parents having two or more sons, sulject to military duty, election of the soci to be exempted must be made before the draft, and his name should not then appear in the draft-box. If one of only two sons of such parents is aircady in the military ecviee, the other is exempt, trouded his parents are deneudent on his labor for their support."

Of person-shawing conscientions scrup'es in regard to bearing arms, OPINION:

"Persons having conscientions scruples in regard to earling arms are not on that account exempt. There are not found in the latter exempted classes, and the oct appeals of clares that persons but those cut of the content of the following that he earliest of riches and others cut rataline shuffer sentiment. If refled, may find relief from their scruples in the curloyment of substitutes, or in the payment of three analysis of the cut of a man whose wife is its ane.

The children of an insane mother, who may at any he recover her reason, cannot, in the sense of the law, of hany propriety of language, be errored "motheries ldrun". The father of such, though they may be dedent on bis law or for their support, cannot therefor in exemption from the draft. The case is a har, and would probably have been provided for had in fore sen. It is, however, the law as it is, and not a A fither having four sons, two of whom have died in e service; als of-Aged or infirm parents electing which of two sons my be exempt.

"In the case of a father having four sons, two of who have deal in the military service, it seems clear teat the remaining two are not exempt from the draft. Before such exemption can be allowed, it must be shown the the fit or may not have red two sens in the militar service. So the law is written. Coopers might we have accepted the loss of two sons in the field as equit a cut to their centinume in the service, and therefor securing the same privileges to their family, but the harmonic heart do therefore would be not the pretation but legislation."

"In the case faged or infirm parents having two

At partook of a light supper—merely some cold beef-tongue, bread, tomatoes and coffee. At about half past eight the same evening, my little half-brother, Asa Gaugh, was taken sick with vominius, groaning, &c. I was, myself, out, but one equare from home, I feit very sick all at once, and hastened home, when I commenced vomiting, and kept it up till near midnight, as did the others. In about five minutes after I came home, my step-brother, Bbyd L. Gaugh, came in, and he was taken very sick. In two minutes afterwards my sister, Ella Burcaw, and my half-brother Willie Gaugh, were taken sick. Shortly afterward, my sister, Keturah Burcaw, was taken sick. My little nephew, Boyd Gaugh, who took supper at our house, was taken sick at the house of Mr. George Coy, whither he had strolled after supper; and a widow lady who was serving at our nonse, Mrs. Julia Thompson by name, was also very sick. In a short time Mayor McCracken's wife and Mrs. J. O. Prather's family, with one or two other neighbors, ca'led in and did their utmost to alleviace our nonse, matil to no purpose, patil Dr. called in and did their utmost to alleviate our sufferings, but all to no purpose, until Dr. Gunkei came, who administered the proper antidotes. THE CONTEMPLATED INVASION OF THIS STATE The New Albany Ledger of yesterday says; "We this morning conversed with The French Abandon the City of a highly intelligent gentleman, a resident of Knoxville, East Tennessee, who gave us some important information in regard to anticipated movements of the rebels during the approaching autumn months. "He states that he has had many opportunities to learn the plans of the rebeis, and that he is convinced, from positive information, that they design invading Kentucky in large force, as soon as the corn shall have become dry enough to grind into mesi, and for feeding purposes. The plan for this invasion, he is satisfied, is fully matured, and Louisville is the main point aimed at. Onr informant says that the rebels are confident of their ability, when Rosecrans shall commence his movement into Georgia, to easily occupy that portion of Kentncky west of the Kentucky river, as they are promised assistance from sympathizers, and do not doubt that it will be afforded."

FINE.-We were passing the store of Mesers Scott, Keene & Co. yesterday, on the corner of Sixth and Main streets, when our attention was arrested by the beauty and finish of a most magnificent sword, the true representation of the one presented by the New Yorkers to Major General George B. McCleiian. It was, indeed, a most beautiful and costly sword, gotten up for the purpose of its being presented to some military man; but we (like they) have never yet seen a person that we thought deserved such a testimonial from the hands of our American soldiers. The sword is manufactured of Damascus steel, and the Formation of a New Expedition scabbard being handsomely ornamented with gold and silver. HILARY. BY LUCY LARCOW.

Hilary.
Summer calls thee, o'er the sea!
Like white flowers upon the tide,
In and out the vessels glide;
But no wind on all the main
Sends thy blithe soul home again!
Every sait breeze mourns for thee,
Hilary !

Hilary,
Welcome summer's steps will be,
Save to those beside whose door
Doleful birds sit evermore
Singing, "Never comes he here
Who made every season's cheer!"
Dull the June that brings not thee,
Hilary!

Hilary,
What strange world has sheltered thee?
Here the soil beneath thy feet
Rang with songs, and blossomed sweet;
Blue skies ask thee ret of earth,
Blind and dumb without thy mirth;
With thee went her heart of glee,
Hilary l

Hilary,
All things shape a sigh for thee?
O'er the waves, among the flowers.
Through the lapse of odorous honrs,
Breathes a lonely, longing cound,
As of something sought unfound;
Lorn are all things, lorn are we,
Hilary!

Oh, to sail in quest of thee,
To the trade-wind's steady tune,
Past the hurrying monsoon,
Into torrid seas, that lave
Dry, hot sands—a breathless grave—
Sad as vain the search would be,
Hilary i

Hilary,
Chase the sorrow from the sea!
Summer-heart, bring summer near,
Warm, and fresh, and airy-clear!
—Dead thou art not: dead is pain;
Now earth sees and sings again:
Death, to hold thee, Life must be,
Hilary!

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT.

A Valuable Invertor.—One of the best and at the same time most simple that contrivances for burning Kerosene Dilin a common fluid lamp. It is so cample that any child can apply it, and it will burn Kerosene Oll in any fluid lamp without even changing the wicking. It is one of the neutest things that has come under our notice, and is destined to become very posular with all who use it. It burns the Oll neffectiv, with no smoke, and will save many times it soot in a few months, and for portuble or night lamps it appears to be the ne place ultra.—(Symense Courier and Union.

It accomplishes the object very perfectly, and dispenses with the appropriate and expense of the inconvenient claimer. A free and steady light, without smoke, is obtained, when a good quality of oil is used. The it vanishes consists in any ying the metallic human to the tube of the Lamp; the borner is simily alphyed over this, and can be easily adjusted to any fluid lamp; thus equipped, could claim be burned in it as readily as fluid. The burner, bould be ablowed to you cat above the top of the tube a distance equal to the disanter of it, or about 4 hot an inch, and the wings, compoint the attachment, must be separated, so as to allow the division to be just equal to the size of the tube. These lamps are very convenient for household purposes, as they on the carried in the hand in draughts or currents of it is an admirable invention, and effects the purpose in the aimplest possible unanner. These burners are coming into universal use."—Rochester Daily Union. [From the Scientific American.] "It is a very slop'e contrivance, and entirely effectual, and has a rapid and extensive sate." - hyprese,

Other journals spe k in like terms, and the most flattering testimonials are being constantly received re manents and others as to their efficiency and economy; in fact they have earned for themselves a wide spread reputation The article never falls to commend theif to all who see it in operation.
